PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE: Why do you Live here?

Dave Kane—President MWFPOA

Recently we had a friend of ours from Oregon come for a visit. Let's call her Lisa since that's her name and what she prefers to be called. Deb met Lisa in the Dressage world of Central Oregon where Lisa is a Dressage Judge and a Grand Prix caliber rider. She is currently riding a horse she has trained herself, going from the lower levels to the point she is now knocking on the door of Grand Prix with him. Lisa likes to ride her horse almost every day, something she can't do in Central Oregon unless she boards her horse somewhere with an indoor arena for at least 5 months out of the year. So while she lives on plenty of land and has her own dressage arena, she has to board her horse for a large part of the year. Also, if Lisa wants to show in competitive and recognized shows, she has to haul her horse a minimum of 3 hours over mountain passes and along winding two lane roads to do so.

Lisa is considering a pretty big life style change. After twenty some years she is now considering moving from Central Oregon. To where, she does not know, and this trip was as much about visiting us as seeing Ocala and this part of Florida. While she was here we put on about 700 miles being tour guides and just generally showing her around. We did the touristy things like seeing manatees and alligators and we took her to Swampy's and sat along the Rainbow River. Lest you think that two dressage gals didn't do anything horsey, think again. Of course they went to tack stores, we went to the Horse Park and they went to the FEI Nations Cup at HITS.

Lisa asked us to drive her around Meadow Wood Farms so she could see the type of community we live in. I think we covered most of the 17 miles of roads in here. While driving around she was impressed with the huge oak trees, she loved the fences and she loved Meadow Wood Farms. Lisa's property in Oregon is out in the country and she enjoyed seeing homes nestled in the oaks with horses in their side yards, people riding their horses along the road and the arenas and jumps in yards. After taking it all in we came back to our house and sitting in our screen room Lisa asked us; "Why do you enjoy living here so much?" "Here" being Meadow Wood Farms.

We told her we felt a great sense of community in Meadow Wood Farms. People are open, caring and sharing. I explained how when we had the Veteran's Appreciation BBQ well over 100 folks show up, the same with the CERT fundraisers efforts. I told her about CERT and that if a disaster strikes, these are your neighbors who will pitch in and help the whole community. We explained how the Neighbor to Neighbor section of our website works and how if what you were looking for wasn't located there, just ask on our email blast and someone will usually have an answer for you. We explained about the Angels and how they have helped folks over the years. Yes, we even talked about Line Dancing, DUTS, the Meet and Greet and other activities at the Park. And she experienced first hand how sometimes when you least expect it, someone stops by, bangs on your door and invites themselves in for something to drink and some stimulating conversation.

Lisa asked about the Association meetings, since she knew I am President and wondered what they were like. After all, she had heard stories about some associations where there was nothing but arguments at the meetings. I told her in my opinion our meetings were as much a social gathering as a meeting. Residents bring treats and the Association provides coffee and water. Many people take it as an opportunity to visit with folks they only see every other month. I told her we still get things accomplished, but they are usually done so with a few laughs along the way.

We introduced Lisa to a few friends while she was here. Right away they made her feel welcome and part of the group. She was treated like she belonged here and said she felt like she did. This is the same way Deb and I were treated when we arrived in Meadow Wood Farms. We do know she made some horsey connections while she was here. I also know that Meadow Wood Farms made a huge impact on her. So will Lisa come back and live here? I don't know. We sent her home with lots of information to digest. And then she has to make up her mind if it is really what she wants to do. Based on our talks with her we can almost see her coming back and staying a little longer as she tries MWF and Florida on for size. But I know one thing. Lisa liked what she saw and felt in Meadow Wood Farms.

MWF Roads Status Report – Jim Bain

MWF Roads: Status Report

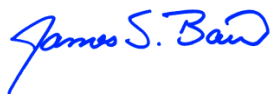

March 1, 2015

As I write this report, Marion County and Art Walker Construction are in discussions about how Walker plans to “fix” the roads in Meadow Wood Farms. The county has done significant testing, observation, and cataloging of defects and has presented those findings to the contractor. While the parties have reached a tentative agreement as to how to proceed, the contractor is doing testing and sampling of their own to defend their position as things move forward.

As the agreement as to how to proceed has not yet been made public (because of its tentative nature) I can only say that we are very close to a resolution. In cases like this, of which there are many in construction, the end result is unlikely to make everyone happy. I know that we as residents of MWF and the taxpayers who funded the project are eager to get the roads for which we have paid. I also know that the county staff is working very hard to make certain that happens. Finally, I am aware that Art Walker Construction has multiple reasons to make good on their obligations.

In short, I am both hopeful and optimistic that we will soon see our road project completed to our satisfaction. Again, please be patient as this process works itself through. I will let everyone know the plan as soon as I am able.

Respectfully submitted:

Share The Road Safely— Dave Kane

SHARE THE ROAD SAFELY!

The horse show season is in full bloom and within Meadow Wood Farms I've noticed a few more horses along the roadways. Plus, when the weather is nice and time permits, the usual suspects are out walking their horses around the neighborhood, Deb and I included.

I am pleased to say that while we have been out riding almost everyone, driving their cars in MWF, are mindful of us as riders and they slow down and give us plenty of space. My horse is pretty bombproof, but Deb sometimes takes one out who is not that savvy when it comes to walking down the road. Plus, I've seen horses taking their riders on the less direct path along the road, taking up a good portion of the roadway at times when they are startled by something or unsure of things.

Courtesy and common sense are called for by all parties, but, understandably, the burden for caution rests more heavily on the driver of the car because the stakes are so high. While horses behave less erratically than, say deer, because they are so much larger, a car/truck and horse collision can be catastrophic for all involved.

So what I'm asking for all of us riders is to please slow down when you see a horse and rider, wait to see if the rider notices you and is comfortably in control of the horse before passing, check for signals, pass slowly and give them a wide berth if possible. The last thing any of us want is for you to have a 1000 pound hood ornament.

Young Eagles Program

As a boy, Warren Levin was fascinated with airplanes. But he didn't pilot a plane until later in life.

Now he passes on his love of flying to kids in the Local EAA Chapter's 812 at the Ocala International Airport " Young Eagle Coordinator".

Warren's first airplane ride was at the age of 11 years old. "It was awesome and I wasn't even in the front seat. "

I enjoy teaching kids about flying, it reminds me off my first airplane ride. In 2003 the Young Eagles hit One Million Flights.

Warren enjoys sharing the feelings with kids "The Sky's The Limit" .

He is the Coordinator of the Young Eagles Program, an Outreach Program of the EAA , That aims to produce pilots by getting kids hooked on flying, NOW.

Warren and a handful of other Pilots gather at the EAA Building at the Airport to give Kids a Quick Lesson in Flight Science and Demonstration of that Science 2,000 feet above the Ground. Thank you, Warren Levin for keeping our kids Educated.

The Nominating Committee Wants You!

Did you know once again it's time to put a slate of officers together for our Meadow Wood Farms Property Owners Association? It's that time of year when a few brave souls toss their names into the hat and by a vote of members at the May 21st Association meeting are elected to continue to guide us forward for another year. Have you ever thought about volunteering your time for the Nominating Committee, Board, or one of our other Committees? It doesn't take up much more time than you are willing to give and it's a wonderful way to give back to Meadow Wood Farms and your neighbors. Studies have shown that giving back helps one feel better about themselves and will actually reduce stress and could increase your lifespan. What are you waiting for? If you are interested, want to live longer, have been thinking about it or have said to yourself: "Hey! I could do that!", give Dave, Donna, Dick, or Leslie a call or shoot us an email and we'll chat with you about it.
